SECTION C COMPULSORY 10 MARKS

You are hired to provide a framework to develop guidance and counseling service at a school. Suggest appropriate guidelines on the following case. 10

A teacher teaching science to class VII always has problems in gaining attention of the students while teaching. She also notices that despite her hard work in teaching, the students are not able to understand content and develop the required insight effectively. She also notices that the students are always keen to be noticed individually, but she does not have enough time or space to cater to their demand. Some of the students are always feeling neglected as the lecture is not enough to catch their attention and thus start to get off-task during the class creating a lot of distractions. One more very disturbing factor is that when students are asked to apply the knowledge in real life they are mostly unable to do so, and are usually having wrong applications of the knowledge resulting in further demotivation. Kindly help the teacher to devise a solution of these problems so that she may teach effectively through.
