- Read the below text and write what is the author's purpose? Explain your answer.

Students should be allowed to use tablets instead of heavy textbooks. Tablets make learning more engaging, reduce the weight of school bags, and give access to many learning apps. Our school should move toward digital learning to help students learn better.

Section B (30 Marks) (Detailed Answer's Questions)

Q3. Attempt any two of the following:

- Read the scenario and give feedback on what the presenter did well and how they can improve, according to best practices of making oral presentations. (15 Marks)

Scenario

Bilal is giving an oral presentation on how to integrate storytelling into early childhood education. His PowerPoint slides contain very few words but many pictures and short video clips. He speaks enthusiastically, using gestures and maintaining frequent eye contact with the audience. However, he sometimes talks too quickly, and a few slides have distracting sound effects. He also forgets to summarize the main points at the end of his talk.

- Read the scenario below and using the communication cycle, explain how the educator adapted the message and channel to overcome barriers and achieve effective communication.

"A health educator gives a presentation on healthy eating to a group of parents. Some parents speak a different language and struggle to understand. The educator notices this and starts using simple visuals, gestures, and examples of local foods. The parents begin to engage and ask questions afterward."
